The image displays a musical score for the song "The Rose Tree." It consists of two parts: a guitar melody and a three-string guitar accompaniment.

Guitar Melody: The melody is written on a single staff with a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a 2/4 time signature. It begins with a treble clef and a 13th fret marker. The melody is characterized by a mix of eighth and sixteenth notes, often beamed together, and includes several ties. The final measure of the snippet shows a sharp sign (#) on the staff, indicating a key change or a specific fingering instruction.

Three-String Guitar Accompaniment: This part is written on a three-line staff. It uses a simplified notation system where numbers 0-3 represent frets. The accompaniment is divided into measures that correspond to the melody. It includes various rhythmic patterns, such as eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. Some measures feature a "3" above the staff, likely indicating a triplet. The notation is designed to be easily transcribed and played on a three-string guitar.
